PROMINENT PHYSICIAN DIES

Dr. George Clark, of Winchester, passed to his reward on the evening of the 20th. He was a relative of Dr. O. P. Clark, recently of this city, and who for several months had been with him. Dr. Clark's wife was Miss Fannie Lou Hunt, a niece of Mr. S. P. Hunt, of this city. Dr. Clark was one of the leading nose, ear, throat and eye specialists of his profession and will be greatly missed. A gentleman of high culture in social, religious and professional circles. Funeral services were held in Winchester this afternoon. Mrs. Fannie Priest and W. D. Hunt attended the service.

DIES IN LEXINGTON

Mrs. Harry Meadows died at her home on High street in Lexington Sunday night after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Meadows was Miss Mary Looney before her marriage and made her home in this city for many years, where she has many old friends and acquaintances who will learn with sorrow of her death. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Marie, and her husband, Mr. Harry Meadows, who has been an engineer on the C. & O. R. R. for several years. Funeral services and burial were held at Lexington today.

MARRIED AT PORTSMOUTH, VA.

Miss Mary E. Garrett and Dr. Felix B. Wilson were married at Portsmouth, Va., last week. Dr. Wilson has many relatives and friends here who will wish the happy couple a long and happy life.

Haul Coal Now

Many farmers in this and surrounding counties have been busy the past two weeks hauling their supply of coal for the winter months. The roads are in excellent shape for hauling at present so why delay until the bad weather? Come in and let us supply your needs in the coal line.

BIG CROWD IN CITY MONDAY

County Court Day Attracts Immense Crowd With Good Run of Cattle and Mules.

Big run of cattle and all the pens full. About 4,500 cattle on the market. Trade good and while prices were a shade lower than last Court, they are still high. Light stuff seemed to be more in demand, especially heifers. The best feeders sold at from $7.25 to $7.50; yearlings about same price; heifers 6 to 6½c; cows at 5 to 5½c; bulls at 5 to 5½c. There was a good crowd at the pens with a buyer or two from Ohio. Sales were fairly brisk and a great many cattle changed hands during the day.

WIRELESS STATION HERE

Tinsley Barnard, Sixteen Years Old, Successfully Receives Long Distance Wireless Messages.

For some time past there has been a great deal of experimenting in wireless telegraphy by various local youthful enthusiasts. One of the most successful among these is Tinsley Barnard, 16-year-old son of Mr. S. C. Barnard, who, by faithful and practical application to the subject, has acquired a high degree of proficiency in sending and receiving wireless messages, and with his high-class amateur outfit receives daily the correct time, news reports, and the meteorological and weather forecasts sent out by the Arlington, Va. Radio Station. He also catches occasionally under favorable atmospheric conditions, radio communications from Key West, Fla., and other wireless stations.

Meteorological reports and weather forecasts from Arlington for Monday and Tuesday, which are given below, were received by this amateur with his outfit consisting of an aerial 200 feet long of five wires stretched 50 feet above the ground, and a receiving and a sending set.

The meteorological and weather forecasts by sections follows:

North Atlantic—Moderate Northeast winds; fair weather.

Middle Atlantic—Light Northeast winds, becoming Southwest; fair weather.

South Atlantic—Moderate North to Northwest winds; fair weather.

East Gulf—Light and variable winds; fair weather.

West Gulf—Light to moderate South winds; fair weather.

Great Lakes:

Upper Lakes—Moderate Northwest to North winds, with fair weather.

Lower Lakes—Light to moderate Southwest winds, with fair weather.

BOOTLEGGER DRAWS LIMIT

Perry Oakley, Jr., Fined $100 and Costs and Given Forty Days in City Jail.

Monday, Perry Oakley, Jr., of Bath county, was tried in the city court for selling liquor in local option territory and his punishment was fixed at the limit of the law, namely, a fine of $100.00 and costs and forty days in jail. The arrest was made by Policeman Scott and the proof is said to have been conclusive.

Before the election we confidently asserted the law would be enforced and do not believe any one can be found who will say it has not been. The officers should continue to be alert, every man proven guilty should be given the limit and then turned over to the Federal authorities. If this don't absolutely break it up, it will keep it to a minimum as it now is.

TERRIBLE AUTO ACCIDENT

Driver Loses Control of Automobile Which Plunges Off of Bridge Sunday Night.

Bernie Ruggles, of Morgan county, was instantly killed and Miss Dollie Ramey and Harold Pennington, of Farmers, sustained fractured skulls and probably cannot recover, Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, near Owingsville, when an automobile in which they and Willis Penney, Miss Onie Kissick and Emmett Reynolds were riding became unmanageable, and jumped from a fourteen-foot bridge.

Ruggles' neck was broken. The two injured people were taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington, Monday morning at 2 o'clock.

The party were on their way from Farmers to this city when the accident occurred. Ruggles' body was taken to his home after the accident, and Miss Ramey and Pennington to Owingsville, where they were treated by Drs. Jones, Daily and Goodpaster and later taken to St. Joseph's hospital at Lexington, in an auto truck.

Pennington's skull is fractured at the base and he is in a serious condition. His right arm is also injured. Miss Ramey was unconscious when she reached the hospital and is unable to talk. She is suffering very much and may be internally injured.

Owing to their weakened condition and the long journey no operations were performed Monday.

The car, it is said, was running at a fair speed when the driver suddenly lost control of the steering gear and the machine began to wobble on the roadway, finally crashing over a fourteen-foot bridge.

Willis Penny, Emmett Reynolds and Miss Onie Kissick escaped uninjured.

Strayed—Sortel mare from my residence on Maysville street. Information leading to recovery will be rewarded. C. K. Oldham.

ROBERT TRUE DEAD

Robert True, 63 years old, member of the Fiscal Court and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer, succumbed to Bright's disease at Winchester Sunday night at 11:30 o'clock after a week's illness. He was stricken about a week ago, while waiting at the depot for a train. Surviving him are his wife and eight children—Lucas, William, James, Robert, Thomas and Clifton True; Mrs. Stephen Haggard and Mrs. John Truesel.

AFTER SOLDIER BOYS

Sheriff Harry F. Howell, W. H. Strossman, Jr., and Stanley O. Wood have been designated by Judge W. O. Chenault as a solicitation committee for the purpose of securing recruits in Montgomery county for the Kentucky National Guard whose ranks were so seriously depleted a short time ago when it was subjected to a severe physical re-examination by Federal authorities, reducing its strength to the minimum. Gov. Stanley, in a letter to Sheriff Howell, urges immediate action in securing recruits for the Kentucky Brigade now mobilized at Ft. Thomas in order that the Kentucky boys may soon entrain for the border.

A list of all the available and eligible young men in this county is being prepared for the use of the solicitation committee. The War Department has appointed recruiting officers who will visit this county later and co-operate with the local committee.

No men under eighteen or over forty-five years of age, nor any married men or men having dependent relatives, nor men under five feet, four inches in height, without shoes, nor any men weighing less than approximately two pounds for each inch in height, nor any men not mentally, morally and physically fit for military service are eligible to enlist.

This recruiting is purely voluntary and any young men in the county who desire to join the State Guard are urged to apply at once to the above committee and they will be supplied with fullest information. We hope that Montgomery county will respond to the Governor's call in her traditional way.

WHEN A FELLOW KNOWS IT ALL

There are but few country towns in existence but what have some one or more persons who "know it all." That is, they fondly imagine they know it all and most people give them credit for being better posted on everything and everybody than their neighbors are.

But are they?

The fellow who is a "know it all" is also most generally a free talker. He trades information for information, gossip for gossip, and scandal for scandal.

Thus it is that he is often able to impart certain unimportant information to his associates in a "strictly confidential manner," giving the impression that he has been in close touch with the powers that be.

But when you sift it down he has simply passed along, with embellishments of his own, information that is more or less of a public nature, and which would have reached the public in the usual routine in the routine in the course of a few days.

As a matter of fact, the know it all man seldom knows in advance of the really important affairs of life or of the commercial world, for no one cares to impart such information to the one who knows it all and tells all he knows.

Do not tie to the man who knows it all, for in all probability he knows less than you.

This Overland is the world's most powerful low-priced car.

It has a 31 1/2 horsepower en bloc motor that is a perfect marvel for speed, power and endurance.

By increasing the bore of the motor from 3 1/8 to 3 3/8" we are able to offer a power plant which at 1950 R. P. M. develops full 31 1/2 horsepower.

Tests under every condition in all parts of the country demonstrate that it easily develops better than fifty miles per hour on the road.

Speed of course varies under different conditions, but in practically every instance it has been getting fifty miles an hour and with ease.

We have scores of telegrams showing that twenty to twenty-five miles per gallon of gasoline is not unusual. The performance of this car is almost beyond belief.

Take any other low-priced car on the market. Pit it against this new Overland. Compare them for sheer speed, for abundance of power, for riding comfort and economy, and you'll find this car will back anything else clean off the boards.

That's a strong statement, but a fact nevertheless.

Try it yourself and see.

Here are more important facts.

It has four-inch tires which are more than generous for a car of this size.

Not only has it a large and roomy body, but it has an attractive, up-to-date streamline body.

It has the latest and most improved system of ignition.

It has the cantilever springs—the easiest riding springs in the world.

What's more, it's complete. Not a thing to buy. You get the finest Auto-Lite electric starting and lighting system, magnetic speedometer, one-man top, demountable rims and practically every accessory found on the highest priced cars.

It only goes to prove how big production can cut cost and save you money.

THE PAPER FAMINE

AND HIGH PRICES

The price of paper, which has advanced from 100 to 200 per cent. or more, over prices prevailing a year ago, seriously threatens the life of a large number of publications throughout the country and greatly lessens the profit of others.

It is doubtful if any other large industry in the United States has had to face so serious a situation, because when prices of raw materials have advanced the manufacturers of the finished products have advanced their prices and thus thrown the burden on the ultimate consumer. In the newspaper business this has not yet been done. The newspapers, from the largest dailies to the smallest weeklies, have been bearing the burden which to many publications will mean complete destruction and to many others the wiping out of all profit.

Had the newspapers of the country been as prompt to defend their own interests as they have the interests of others, they, too, would before this have undertaken to save themselves by an advance in subscription price and in advertising rates. Under existing conditions they will be forced to do this sooner or later, and they cannot postpone it much longer without serious financial embarrassment to many of them. Hundreds of the smaller weeklies including the religious papers, which have had but a very narrow margin between loss and profit, will, we fear, suffer most seriously, and many of them disastrously, unless the public promptly recognizes the situation and accepts an advance in subscription and in advertising rates and thus saves the situation.

The day laborer, the mechanic, the farmer and nearly all business interests, manufacturing and mercantile, under the activity of the times are showing larger earnings than for years. But the newspapers, as a whole, are meeting a more perplexing problem in the doubling, and in some cases the trebling, of price of paper, and in the absolute inability to contract in advance for supplies, than they have ever had to face before. The statements which have recently appeared in the daily papers on the subject do not at all exaggerate the seriousness of the problem.—From Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore.

NEGROES LEAVING

According to a well informed local colored citizen, over 250 negroes have left Montgomery county in the past few months for Northern cities, principally in Ohio, where attractive wages are being offered by big concerns who have war munitions contracts. The vote in the two colored wards here in the recent primary was less than half cast last fall. Many vacant houses are to be found throughout the colored section. Local agents for industrial insurance companies who do a large business among the colored folk place the estimate of migrating negroes much higher than above quoted.

THE COLLEGE-BRED FARMER

Investigation in New York State reveals the fact that farmers with high school educations make twice as much as unlettered farmers, and college men on farms make three times as much.

It will not surprise educated farmers to learn that education pays on the farm. They have known it for a long time. But the comparison between the educated, the half educated and the uneducated will be welcomed by educators as proof that a college education pays.

It always has been contended by advocates of education that the mental training secured in college is valuable in any calling. If it pays such returns on the farm it can no longer be argued that unless a man is to study one of the learned professions he does not need a college education. There was a time, you know, when it was not believed that a physician or lawyer needed special training. And surgeons used to be barbers who practiced surgery on the side. The stripes on the barber pole, indicating blood, were the sign of the surgeon.

Nowadays education pays in every walk of life. The fact that the impractical man fails despite an education does not prove that education is not valuable.—Frankfort State Journal.

NORTHERN AGENTS LURING NEGROES FROM THE SOUTH

An exodus of negro laborers from Savannah, Ga., to the number of more than 1000 in one movement is arousing the organized opposition of Savannah's city officials to the activities of Northern corporations, who have sent agents into the South to lure laborers North with the inducement of higher wages. More than 2500 negroes were at the railroad station when the 1000 laborers were put on board two special trains destined for points along the Pennsylvania railroad, in whose interest the movement was instigated.

Other railroads in the North, where a shortage of labor exists on account of the drain the European war has made, are also reported as having representatives in the South, and grave alarm is expressed over the results which are likely to follow in the way of a serious shortage of labor in parts of the South.

The strict enforcement of present laws and ordinances and the enactment of still more stringent regulations are proposed in the places threatened with labor depletion. It is declared that the invading agents have inspired the negroes with a sort of frenzy for work in new fields, in spite of the fact that negro laborers from the far South almost invariably find that they are unsuited for the rigors of winter in the North.—Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore.

Sunshine is healthy, but the shady spot of a tree is a darned lot more comfortable on a hot day.

SOUTHERN APPALACHIAN GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Lexington, Ky., September 5 to 8

There are many reasons why the Eighth Annual Convention of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association should be the most successful and useful Convention ever held by this Association. Since the last Convention, Tennessee has organized a State Highway Department and the State Highway Commission of North Carolina has been organized and is accomplishing splendid results. Also, within the last six months, Congress has passed an act appropriating seventy-five million dollars for Federal Aid to States in road construction, with an additional ten million to be used on roads in Government Forest Reserves. This provision of the Federal Government, together with the recent floods which have visited large areas in the Southern Appalachian region, have created problems for this general section which can be most successfully met by the getting together of all those who are interested in the promotion of good roads throughout this general region.

Therefore, the subjects which will be discussed in detail at this Convention will be Federal Aid, with particular reference to the provisions of the act, and the question of Road Maintenance. This latter subject is of especial interest in view of the fact that one of the provisions of the Federal Aid bill is that MAINTENANCE for roads constructed with this Federal co-operation MUST BE PROVIDED by the states receiving such aid. Among those who will discuss the Federal Aid bill are Mr. L. W. Page, Director of the U. S. Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering; Representative of the U. S. Forest Service; Mr. George P. Coleman, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

The question of Road Maintenance will be discussed by Mr. Robt. James, who is in charge of the Division of Maintenance of the U. S. office of Public Roads; Mr. Henry G. Shirley, President of the American Association of State Highway Officials, and State Road Engineer of Maryland; Prof. C. M. Strahan, of the Highway Department of the University of Georgia, and others.

Those questions will also be discussed by the Highway Officials of the states included in this Association (Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky.) Others subjects to be discussed are "Use of the Automobile Tax in Road Work"; "Use of States' Prisoners on Public Roads," etc.

There will be exhibits of road materials, road photographs, models from the U. S. Office of Public Roads, etc.

In connection with this Convention, there will be held the annual meeting of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, and at least one thousand delegates are expected to attend from the State of Kentucky, who will also take part in the proceedings of the Southern Appalachian Convention.

Tuesday, September 5th, will be known as GOVERNORS' DAY, and it is expected that the Governors of each of these states will attend and make short addresses. Among the Congressmen who are expected to attend are Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina; Hon. Cordell Hull; Hon. D. H. Kincheteo, of Kentucky; Hon. Charles P. Coady, of Maryland; Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee; Hon. John W. Langley, of Kentucky. Their attendance, of course, is dependent upon the adjournment of Congress.

It is expected that this Convention will be the most important, not only in point of attendance, but because of the vital import of the subjects to be discussed to this general region; that the Association has ever held; and all citizens who are interested in the upbuilding of their states and of this Southern Appalachian region are cordially invited to attend.

EVEN MONEY NOW

Wall Street gamblers, four weeks ago were betting two to one that Charles Evans Hughes would defeat Woodrow Wilson in November. Now the New York World says the declaration of candidate Hughes that the Republican party is facing a hard fight has encouraged Wilson bettors in the financial districts of America. Whereas, the best odds they had offered on the President were one to two, some of them willing to lay moderate amounts of money at the comparatively short odds of five to seven. According to Edward McQuade, Hughes bettors were more shy than previously, and there was not a single dollar in sight to be wagered on the ex-Justice. The former Justice of the Supreme Court is an iceberg; the Oyster Bay Colonel is a suppressed volcano, and the Bull Moosers are political drifters. Wilson has steadily gained strength since the adjournment of the Republican convention. Betting in Wall Street is one of the straws. Jimmy O'Leary is the Chicago king of chance. He is a gambler and has been a gambler all his life. He has won and lost fortunes, and he is rich today. Jimmy has changed his odds on the coming Presidential election to even money on Wilson and Hughes, and take your choice. Up to the latest Mexican crisis Hughes ruled a 5 to 6 favorite, while Wilson was quoted 4 to 5. Now Chicago's king of chance claims Wilson's strength has increased recently, and that it is an even money proposition. He has the money and he backs his judgment with his coin. Now don't bet on this tip—Jimmy O'Leary is a professional gambler. He makes gambling his business. It is his life, his calling, his love, his inspiration, and he would throw dice with death if the devil appeared and submitted an alluring proposition. But the fact remains that when Jimmy O'Leary makes up his mind that it is fifty-fifty in the Presidential getaway it is evidence there has been a recent change of public opinion in the financial centers of America. Jimmy is cold-blooded. There is no sentiment in the make-up of a gambler. His judgment is cold-blooded, for on his judgment he risks his wealth.

"He who would free from malice pass his days, must live obscure and never merit praise." So breathed one who had passed through many life battles. He had been a close observer. Malice never communes with the good. "Malice toward none and charity for all," has been the thought of great souls ever since creation's dawn. All along the pathway of life where that thought has been the most dwelt upon there have always budded and bloomed the sweetest flowers. Where that principle has been practiced the most, and applied the most, round about have fluttered in the air the prettiest birds and with the sweetest tunes. Where that virtue has the most deeply penetrated human souls, there can be found the purest and highest civilization, the loveliest temples and the most beautiful cottages with the most fruitful vines of love twining about.

THE FIRST DUTY

Referring to a subject about which we have heretofore expressed ourselves, Hon. W. P. Walton, Chairman of the Publicity Bureau, for the November campaign in Kentucky, says:

"It is observed with regret that many are already announcing for county offices to be filled in 1917, when every effort should be concentrated on securing votes for Wilson and the Democratic nominee for Congress. As the Louisville Times aptly says, this is no time for such announcements and aspirants for honors in 1917 should not be permitted to canvass their strength when a strong pull together is needed for the work in hand. Such entries for offices to be filled in 1917 is bound to breed factionalism and discord, when it is most important that these should be eliminated until the National Election is over."

Recently in Louisville a Special Judge of the Police Court, who had taken an oath to enforce the written law of the land, turned a murderer loose, assigning as his reason the so-called "unwritten law," thus disgracing the bench and state.

WORDS WITH THE BARK ON THEM

When he was Secretary of State, Mr. Bryan wrote a letter to the Receiver of Customs at Santo Domingo inquiring as to what positions could be obtained for "deserving Democrats." Candidate Hughes quoted this letter in his speeches declaring it shameful, and the Commoner comes back at him like a thousand of brick. He says that he enforced the civil service law to the letter with the employees of the State Department wherever it was in force, but he felt free to reward deserving Democrats whenever it could be done without detriment to the service. Then after declaring that Mr. Hughes has shown himself prompt in "discharging obligations" he hands it to him thus:

"When he was candidate for Governor Mr. Hughes received the support of the railroads of New York, and he generously repaid the debt by vetoing the two-cent passenger rate bill. He did not describe that as shameful. When a candidate for Governor he received the support of the New York tax dodgers, the owners of 'swollen fortunes' and he paid his debt by sending a message to the legislature protesting against the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. He does not describe that as shameful."

"He is now being supported by the railroads of the United States, and he expects to pay them back by aiding them to escape state legislation and find a haven of security in 'exclusive Federal control' over the railroads; he is being supported by the Shipping Trust, and expects to pay them back by helping them to prevent Government competition. He is supported by the trust magnates, and expects to pay them back by shielding them from punishment for the extortion which they desire to practice; he is supported by Wall Street and expects to pay them back by spending American blood and squandering money raised by taxation in order to guarantee profits on speculative investments."

"And yet, with the record which he has made in paying his political obligations at the expenses of the public and with the pledges his speeches contain to those who are now aiding his ambitions, he has the impudence to hold up for criticism a legitimate effort to reward competent men for the service which they have rendered to the cause of reform."

This seems to have brought Mr. Hughes to his sense as he has not referred directly to the matter since Mr. Bryan's pointed strictures. Mr. Hughes' seeming determination to knock everybody and everything Democratic is proving a boomerang and he will soon discover that to a man who lives in such a thin glass house as he does, it is a very foolish performance to throw rocks.

FOUR HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN WRECK

Four persons had a narrow escape from death Friday night when an automobile driven by Carroll Chenault, of Mt. Sterling, almost ran off the small bridge at Thatchers' Mill, about nine miles from Winchester in Bourbon county. The machine was occupied by Mr. Chenault, Hord Tipton, Mrs. Mattie Coleman and her daughter, Miss Martha Coleman, all of Mt. Sterling. A dense fog which was overhanging the branch beneath the bridge obscured the structure from the view of the driver and its presence was not observed until the machine struck the obstruction.

All the occupants of the car escaped without injury with the exception of Mrs. Coleman, who suffered a slight bruise on her forehead. They were brought to this city, where they spent the night and returned to Mt. Sterling Saturday morning. The party was returning from a dance in Paris when the accident occurred.

According to the statement of Mr. Chenault he was driving the machine at a low rate of speed when the accident occurred, and this fact probably saved the lives of the occupants of the car which if it had gone six inches further would have precipitated to the bottom of the little stream, a distance of fifteen feet below the bridge. On account of the heavy fog, Chenault was unable to see a great distance ahead, and when he struck the bridge he applied the emergency brakes and brought the machine to a stop, with the hind wheels resting on the abutment. The car was astride the right hand railing of the bridge, and it is regarded as miraculous that it did not topple over the guard rail.

The machine was considerably damaged as a result of the impact. The front wheels were torn off and the axles bent, while the radiator where the bridge railing struck was badly damaged.

The car, a seven-passenger Studenbaker, belonging to Mr. C. C. Chenault, of Mt. Sterling, was brought to Winchester by the employees of the Winchester Garage, where it will be repaired. It was necessary to anchor the car securely before an attempt was made to move it in order to prevent it going over the railing. One side of the bridge was almost completely wrecked.—Winchester Sun.

OFFICERS RAID

GAMBLING ROOM

Yesterday word reached local officers that a crap game was in progress on East Main street and the police, aided by Sheriff Howell, raided the place, resulting in the arrest of a number for gambling. They were tried before the Police Judge this morning and quite a number of convictions resulted. John Fay, whom it is claimed was operating the game, was held to await the action of the next grand jury and gave bond for his appearance.

Public Sale

OF PERSONAL PROPERTY AND RENTING OF

Fine Blue Grass Farm

As Executrix of Ernest Gillaspie, deceased, the undersigned will, at his late residence, on the Levee pike about five miles from Mt. Sterling, Ky., expose to public sale on the following personal property:

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 30, 1916

At 10 o'clock a. m.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 3 extra good two-year-old feeding cattle. | 1 two year-old horse by Bourbon Knight. |
| 1 lot yearling steers and heifers. | 1 mule colt. |
| 7 extra good milch cows and calves. | 2 two-year-old mules. |
| 1 two-year-old bull. | 1 extra good jack, four years old. |
| 50 head extra good ewes. | 1 extra good jack, two years old. |
| 2 bucks. | 1 lot of hay. |
| 2 sows and pigs. | 1 hay rake. |
| 1 bay trotting mare, record 2:08 1/4. | 1 cider mill. |
| 1 suckling mare colt out of this mare by Mainleaf. | 1 cultivator. |

UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING

The editorial commenting upon a recent declaration by Cardinal Gibbons in favor of universal military training in this country quotes many others in favor of this policy, and conceding that every young man would derive some benefit from military drilling and training, does not declare positively for this means of preparedness. The conclusion of the editorial on this subject is probably best summed up in this sentence:

"There ought to be developed a pronounced popular sentiment in favor of strong, clear, practical thinkers, being asked and urged to give the general public the benefit of their best thoughts on subjects affecting the nation and the public welfare."

Those who are sincerely for adequate preparedness regard the recent army legislation as merely a step, as merely an experiment that is likely to prove a failure and to prepare the way for more adequate plans for increasing our regular army. If there is one lesson the world war impresses upon this country with more emphasis than another it is that our safety lies only in universal military training.

There is a vast difference between militarism and military preparedness. Prussia offers us a striking example of militarism, while Switzerland and France gives us examples of military preparedness without menace to Democratic institutions. When the army belongs to all the people, in the sense that it is composed of all the people, there will be much less danger of a military spirit, or military aggression against the domestic rights and liberties of the people than from a hired army recruited entirely by voluntary enlistment. Therefore, universal military training is a means for the protection of, rather than a menace to, the principles of Democracy.

There is more or less sacrifice involved in service in the army and this is a sacrifice that should be shared by all citizens alike. Equal rights to all and special privileges to none is one of the foundation principles of our institutions, and universal military training is certainly in strict accord with this principle. Indeed, we violate this principle if we attempt to maintain an adequate army upon any other basis.

There is still another potent reason, perhaps the most potent reason, why we should have universal military training. The controversies growing out of the recent conflict in Europe have brought sharply to our attention the danger in this country from a lack of unity, from the different racial elements in our population. It will probably require five centuries to give us the blood solidarity that characterizes France and the German Empire, and we must find some means to controvert that ancient saying that blood is thicker than water. We must find some means by which all of the elements of our population, regardless of racial antecedents, may be brought to the enthusiastic support of genuine American under all circumstances.

What can give a foreign born citizen a keener sense of obligation to this country of his adoption than serving in its army? What better means can we design for bringing together all the varied elements of our population into real national unity than the comradeship of arms?

The effort at "pleasing mother" should be cultivated in the childish heart. Early in life they should begin the cultivation of thought and effort with reference to the gratification of her wishes and of making her happy. If they would do this they would find daily opportunities for speaking kind words and rendering such helpful services and showing such noble traits of character in dealing with others, as would gladden the heart and lighten the cares of mother in a way too often little thought of. If boys, if girls, could but realize their indebtedness to their mothers, they certainly would generally be very much more anxious about pleasing them.

GOOD COUNSEL

Dr. Talmadge said that the man who never made a blunder has not yet been born. If he had been, he would have died right away. The first blunder of the universe was born in Paradise, and it has had a large family of children.

Some people think the more religion a man has the longer his face will be; but the idea of making a man's face the counter on which to measure his religion by the yard! Why, the longest-faced man I ever knew borrowed $25 of me and out of pure delicacy of feeling never afterward referred to the subject.

Don't be stilted. Most of us have got to go through this world afoot, and if anybody will walk beside me and give me a lift, I shall be everlastingly obligated to him.

As a rule, a man can do only one thing at a time and do it well. Some men are specially prepared for their work by natural advantages, as was Hugh Miller, and the same by sheer trouble, reaching their rightful places only after having graduated at the university of hard knocks. It doesn't make much difference what you do, if you only do it. Any man by diligent effort, ought to reach success in any occupation by the time he is thirty or thirty-five. But he must stick to one thing. Center your efforts on one thing. Don't be afraid to be called a man of one idea. Better have one big idea than a score of little ones. A man whose whole energy, body, mind and soul is concentrated in one direction is a tremendous man. Look out for him.

SAMPSON'S MAJORITY 850

Complete returns of the August primary on file with Secretary of State Lewis give Flem D. Sampson, of Barbourville, the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Seventh District by 850. Sampson received a total of 9,561 and A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville, 8,711.

In the Seventh Congressional District J. Campbell Cantrill received 9,243 and R. E. L. Murphy 892. Both are Democrats.

Congressman Harvey Helm, of the Ninth District, was an easy winner, receiving 8,921 as against 3,093 for State Senator Charles F. Montgomery. On the Republican ticket, in the Ninth District, L. T. Neat got 2,724 and R. L. Davison 2,042.

Congressman W. J. Fields made a runaway race in the Tenth District, polling 10,940 votes. J. W. Riley got 2,285 and Senator J. B. Hiles 729. On the Republican ticket, in the same district, A. J. Pennington got 5,247; E. V. Kash 3,214 and Trumbo Snedegar 809.

AUTO KILLS HORSE

An auto driven by Roger Crouch, of near Sharpsburg, ran into a horse and buggy in which Mrs. Alice Hansbrough, of Shelbyville, and Allen Caldwell, of Sharpsburg, were driving to Mt. Sterling last Wednesday near the Paris pike, overturning the buggy and injuring the horse so badly it had to be destroyed. Mrs. Hansbrough had been visiting in Sharpsburg and was enroute here to catch a train for her home. Crouch came up behind the buggy, which had been pulled to one side to give him room to pass and it is said his car skidded into the horse on the muddy pike. The horse was the property of Mr. Ed Peck, of Sharpsburg, whom Mrs. Hansbrough had been visiting.

There is a vast difference between a house and a home. The house is but the building and furniture, the outward shelter and gathering place of a household. The home includes the kindly family affection, the thoughtful care and ready sympathy and mutual confidence and trust of the members.

A true home breathes the atmosphere of love. A child should be made to feel that his home is indeed a home, the happiest place in the world to him, not merely an outward shelter and resting place, but a center of enjoyment by love, the thought and remembrance of which shall be the safeguard of his life as he goes forth in the world, giving strength and proportion to his character, and turning his thought to all that may prepare for the heavenly home when the scenes of earth shall have passed away.

Love makes a fool of many a man who was considered wise.

A Card to Owners of Rural Telephone Lines

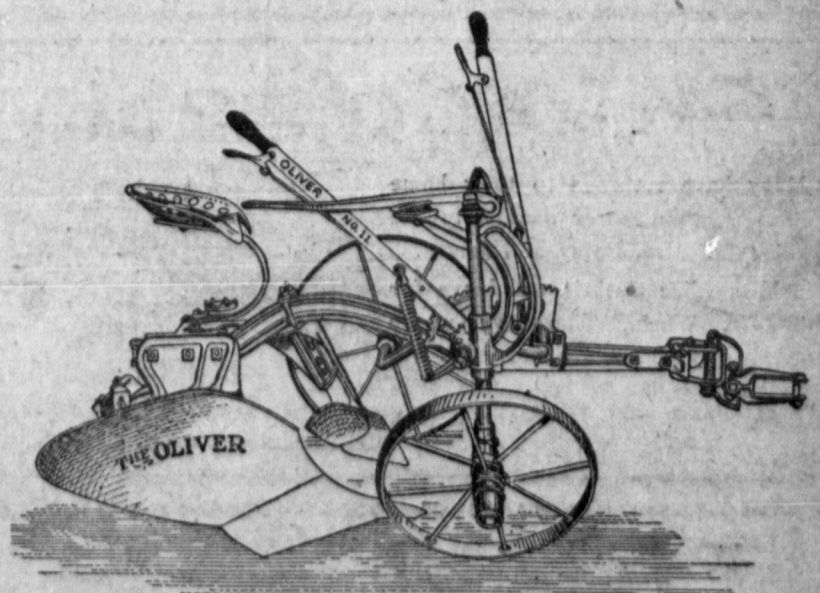

We are anxious to see that all lines owned by other parties and connected with us are kept in such condition as to furnish efficient service. Where the owners of rural lines are responsible for their upkeep, we want to co-operate with them.

All lines require a thorough overhauling occasionally if the best service is to be obtained. We recommend that every line connected with us be overhauled at least once a year, and that at least one experienced telephone man assist in this work. The cost of this work when divided among all the patrons of the line, makes the amount paid by each man small, and this cost will be more than offset by the improved service.

If the owners of rural telephone lines in this section are experiencing trouble with their service, we will appreciate their talking the matter over with our Manager or writing us fully. We will gladly do what we can toward helping you improve the condition of your line.

TO TAKE CHAIR AT DANVILLE

The following from the Danville Messenger will be of local interest, as the Rev. Turner was pastor of the local Methodist church for four years immediately preceding the pastorate of the Rev. T. W. Watts.

"Rev. Horace G. Turner, pastor of the local Methodist church, has been secured to take the chair of Psychology at Center College, much to the gratification of the friends of the college. Thoroughly competent and an all-round college man, Rev. Turner will prove a great acquisition to the faculty. He has rapidly become one of the most popular men in Danville and it is gratifying to learn that he has consented to put a shoulder to the wheel at old Center, from which he was graduated with honors."

The tides of feeling that ebb and flow in the human heart are as great a mystery as the laws that control the universe.

In the earliest ages the heroes are gods, and the great men are less and less great as we come down to our own time, but it is probably true that there is as much real worth and heroism in the world now as ever Plutarch celebrated.

WILL SOON BE FINISHED

The installation of the chimes at the new Baptist church was begun last week and will be completed within the next ten days, and work on the new pipe organ began this week. It will take about two weeks to install the organ and make it ready for use. The carpets and furnishing have all arrived and seats will be placed as soon as the organ and chimes work is completed. The frescoing and painting is practically finished, and the rest of the work will be pushed rapidly to completion. It is hoped to have the church finished complete within this month and the handsome building will be dedicated during the month of September.

CAN FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR

Fruit for use in pies or salads or as stewed fruit can be put up or canned without the use of any sugar at all, according to the canning specialists of the department. They, therefore, advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to can as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar sirup is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and retained in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of the hot sirup. The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweetened product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture, and color as well as fruit put up in sirup. Fruit canned without sugar to be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem, or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full; use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle, or table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot-water bath outfit; process for 30 minutes; count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot-water bath, sterilize for 10 minutes with 5 pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over 10 pounds.

GREENE WILL PROBATED

The will of R. F. Greene, who died in Denver, Col., a few weeks ago, was filed for probate before County Judge W. O. Chenault last Tuesday afternoon. In the will the deceased leaves the sum of $1,000 each to his sisters, Mrs. Fleda Foley, of Lexington; Mrs. Fisher Smith, of Cincinnati; Miss Eula Greene, of Louisville; and two brothers, Leslie Greene, of Nicholas county; Charles Greene, of Columbus, Ga.; and father, S. T. Greene, of this city. The balance of the estate is left to his wife, Mrs. Pearl Greene, during her life. It will then go to his brother, Charles Greene. The widow is empowered to sell and convey the real estate but proceeds, except sufficient for her necessary needs, are to be reinvested with the consent of Charles Greene, who is named as executor. Mr. Greene qualified and took charge of the estate, which is valued at about $6,000.

There is no use standing idly, crying about what you would do if you had capital. Providence endowed you with capital if you will only use it. Brains and muscle working together in harmony always win. It is what a man was endowed with them for. If such valuable capital is left to rest and rot the possessor will live in poverty and obscurity as he ought to. Cease whining and go to work. Keep away from saloons and gambling houses. Throw aside that cigar and remove that horrible quid from your mouth. Abandon all useless expenses and no matter how small your income, save a certain percent. of it each year and soon you will have creed, capital and wealth. The road is plain, easy and certain. SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

CO-OPERATION ASKED

In an endeavor to avert or at least to lessen car shortages the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., has appealed to Boards of Trade, other commercial organizations and shippers and receivers of freight generally, for co-operation in its efforts to secure the maximum efficiency in the use of freight cars of all classes. The demand for cars is far ahead of previous years and the Interstate Commerce Commission has issued a circular letter to carriers and shippers alike calling attention to the threatened shortage in the United States and urging that shippers secure prompt and full loading of cars and consignees equally prompt unloading and release.

The question of car supply is one in which shippers and receivers of freight are equally interested with the carriers and a hearty co-operation with the railroads efforts will result in great good to both. The prompt loading and unloading of cars, the loading of all cars to their full capacity, the betterment of facilities for loading and unloading cars, are some of the ways in which patrons may assist. Shippers and consignees should not use cars for storage purposes but should release them as promptly as possible.

Transportation officials of the Chesapeake & Ohio have been instructed by General Manager J. P. Stevens to use every effort to avoid delay in the movement of cars and to secure the greatest possible car efficiency.
